

SNEAKY CAMEL NEWSLETTER

Hello! Here's the latest update from Sneaky Camel Productions. If you have any questions, or just feel like dropping me a line, please write to me at producer@sneakycamel.net. And for more up-to-the-minute info, trailers, press info and other Camel fun, visit our website: www.sneakycamel.net. Take care! - Kat

JANUARY 2007

CAMEL NEWS

Sneaky Camel Productions announces its new Steering Committee. This group of dedicated Camel Herders will help to plan new projects, oversee experimental shoots, fund-raise, recruit cast and crews and generally share the responsibilities of ushering Sneaky Camel into a new era of filmmaking. We've grown so much over the last two years that we've decided to expand our structure and give the Camels a chance to really flex their creative muscles. More projects! More experimentation! More learning! More fun!

How does this impact you? If you're a Camel (or would like to become one), it means more opportunities for you to have your own projects, work on experimental projects to learn a new area of filmmaking and still have the opportunity to shine on larger projects throughout the year. If you're a supporter, it means more projects coming out of Sneaky Camel and more ways to get involved and support independent filmmaking - more chances to see your name in lights!

The Steering Committee members are: Kim Trepanier, Roger Alix-Gaudreau, Allison Corbett and John Corbett, with Kat Alix-Gaudreau at the head of the committee (she gets to wear the Camel fedora).

For more information about the Steering Committee and how to propose new projects for Sneaky Camel, please visit our website (click on Projects page for proposal guidelines, or check out the Steering Committee members on their page).

PROJECT UPDATE

"The Party" and "The Interrogation" - Sneaky Camel's latest short films - are completed and available on DVD! "The Party", written and directed by Mark Killian, is a dramatic introspective about loneliness and isolation starring David Beck. "The Interrogation", written by Roger Alix-Gaudreau, directed by Kat Alix-Gaudreau and produced by John Corbett (completed in just 48 hours!) is a cop drama starring Jay Howell, Caleb Hand and Libby Schapp. Both DVDs come with extra features, including behind-the-scenes clips and interviews.

IN THE WORKS

Summerlands - Currently in the early conceptual stages, we have a team of writers developing the world and the characters for this fantasy TV show about the human world and the world of faerie and what happens when they collide.

Apocalypse Con - "When the world ends...the gamers will be ready." Now in early development, the trailer for this movie will be available online at our website, as well as YouTube and gaming conventions!

WEBSITE UPDATE

Check out the new and improved Sneaky Camel website at www.sneakycamel.net! This new site contains a whole new look and feel, as well as project pages, film crew blogs, trailers and teasers, bios, pictures, press packs and more!

HOW TO SUPPORT THE CAMELS

Sneaky Camel Productions is an independent film company, which means we need both financial support and word-of-mouth press in order to be successful. If you would like to donate to the cause, please visit our website and go to the "Sponsors" page. Also, just telling other people about our projects is a great way to support our efforts. So please, tell everyone you know about Sneaky Camel and direct them to our website at www.sneakycamel.net!